Portobello & Goat Cheese Sandwich

35 MIN • SERVES 4 • VEGETARIAN

INGREDIENTS

4 large portobellos, stems discarded
¼ cup olive oil
¼ cup balsamic vinegar
2 tablespoons tamari
½ teaspoon coarse ground black pepper
1 ciabatta loaf
4 ounces herbed goat cheese
1 ounce baby arugula
1 large beefsteak tomato, sliced (8 slices)

DIRECTIONS

- 1 In a small bowl, whisk together olive oil, balsamic vinegar, tamari, and black pepper. Brush portobello mushrooms generously with the marinade and place in a baking dish. Cover tightly and let the marinade absorb. Preheat the oven to 350° F.
- 2 When the oven is hot, bake for 15–20 minutes, or until mushrooms are tender and juicy. Remove from oven and allow to cool.
- 3 Slice the ciabatta loaf in half lengthwise. Spread goat cheese evenly on both cut sides. Layer the bottom half with tomato slices, portobello mushrooms, and arugula. Top with the remaining bread.
- 4 Cut into four sandwiches and serve immediately.

*Chicken can be substituted for another protein of choice. Proteins should be cut into ¼” slices for fast cooking.

Charity Of The Month: The North Shore Audubon Society

Given that Earth Day falls in April, it seemed right to highlight an organization that works tirelessly to celebrate, study, and protect our planet's wildlife. Since its founding in 1952, the North Shore Audubon Society has been promoting the protection and study of birds in their natural habitat. By conducting public birding walks, providing information and education about the use of native plants, and participating in bird counts, the North Shore Audubon Society has been a leader in wildlife conservation, and we are proud to make them April's Charity of the Month.
